B. Public Comments

Seven public comments we're received from five individuals addressing both grants and the general application. Overall the commenter's support both the Keyesville Ground Operations and the Bakersfield Law Enforcement grant applications. However specific concerns we're aired on several line items within the grant applications; these have been addressed in the final grant applications. Those concerns and responses are as follows:

Safety of BLM employees using a Motorcycle – Only trained and experienced rides would use any OHV equipment owned and operated by the Field Office. In addition to personal experience all BLM employees who use such equipment have to take Department of Interior approve certification courses and complete Job Hazard Analysis for the tasks they undertake.

The need for OHV equipment (ATV/Motorcycle) for ground operations – Ground Operations include the regular maintenance and operations of manage facilities; however it also encompasses many other aspects of OHV area management. These additional operational tasks include non-enforcement visitor patrols (issuing fire permits, providing visitor information, aiding visitors to public lands), trail condition assessments, sign installation etc. These tasks occur area wide and often involve use of single track and ATV trails, without OHV equipment BLM staff cannot access all areas and would have to drive a 4x4 truck along some of these routes compromising their recreational values. Currently the Bakersfield Field Office has no OHV equipment; as such many of these tasks are left to volunteers with little backup from the BLM. In addition the concern that a 6 month Park-Ranger position wouldn't be able to fully utilize this equipment, however the equipment would be used not only by this seasonal position, but by volunteers and outdoor recreation staff.

Need for Radar units for Law Enforcement – The radar units requested for Law Enforcement are specifically for the enforcement of OHV's in Campground and staging areas where terrain precludes vehicle pacing. In addition specifically in the Keyesville SRMA area the equipment would be used on and along Keyesville Road (a county maintained 55 mph road that crossed both OHV camping and staging areas, along with intersecting many trails. Speed of vehicles on this road poses significant threats to the safety of OHV users and its.

Expense of OHV training – The estimated expense of OHV training includes potential travel and per-diem costs of BLM employees.

Trimble GPS unit – The GPS unit is a much needed piece of equipment for the Bakersfield OHV program. Having the ability to accurately map routes, monitor disturbance and report route proliferation will ensure the continuation of a successful OHV program. In addition the requested GPS unit interfaces with existing and new visitor counters, allowing better tracking of OHV use of the Keyesville area.

Specific Law Enforcement operations – The grant request does not address specific operations of the Law Enforcement program, but takes a landscape scale look at why and where law enforcement is needed. The specific law enforcement operations themselves are the core of what BLM Law Enforcement officers are actively enforcing and looking for in the areas in which they patrol. These regular enforcement actions include addressing off-route travel; age restrictions; safety concerns; and equipment noise and registration violations.

Mile of routes and OHV visits – The numbers quoted in the general application come from the BLM's Recreation Management Information System and the latest route inventory being used for the current Resource Management Plan revision. The route inventory is field office wide and includes all routes designated for public use, including those routes in oil fields, on and or crossing small isolated parcels of public lands and those in recreation areas.
